About phone number hiding

For additional privacy and safety in communities, your phone number is only visible to community admins, people who have your number saved in their contacts, or those who have your number from your other chats. All other participants will not see your full phone number when you react to announcements in Announcements. Community admins will still be able to see community members' full phone numbers.

Notes:

- WhatsApp users who you've saved as a contact or who you have been in a chat or group with will be able to see your full phone number.
- Community admin phone numbers will still remain visible to all community members.
- For users who cannot see your full phone number, only the country code and last two digits of your phone number are visible.
